

City and federal government announce new affordable housing grant to preserve older buildings

Mayor Andrew Knack, Coun. Jo-Anne Wright and Shanika Donalds, vice-president of Housing and Client Services at Greater Edmonton Foundation Seniors Housing, tour a one-bedroom rental unit at the Tegler Manor, 9943 110 St. NW, following the launch of a new affordable housing grant, in Edmonton Wednesday August 19, 2026. The grant will help non-profit organizations acquire and renovate existing properties to create long-term, non-market affordable housing. PHOTO BY DAVID BLOOM /Postmedia

Edmonton Journal posted on August 19, 2026

Dubbed the Rental Protection Program, the $2 million grant will help non-profits purchase and renovate units for those in housing needs. Author of the article: Eric Bowling

Click here to read full article.